Rumfysra Festival

Repeats: Annually on the 12th of Rumfysra

The festival of gift giving. People are not exactly sure how this festival came to be, but it is believed that the peace brokered between the humans and the Elves was celebrated with elaborate gift giving to solidify the alliance. Nowadays people give gifts to their friends and family to show appreciation of each other.

Winter Festival

Repeats: Annually on the 1st of Vemsyks

The festival that celebrates the start of winter. Human festival that has spread. Winter is usually miserable, nothing grows, food is limited, and morale was low. So the king decided to celebrate the start of winter with a huge feast for all the nobles in the land. As time went on the commoners adopted the tradition and morale grew as people would wish others to have a happy winter. Nowadays, people of all races seemed to have adopted the tradition of having a big meal with friends and family to celebrate the coming of winter.
